

The Endangered Species Act is under attack!

Join us on Wednesday, February 8th at 12:30 to learn about endangered species in Ohio, and how they are threatened by a bill in Congress.

Harvey Webster, Director of Wildlife at the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, will talk about why Ohio is such an important habitat to endangered wildlife, especially bald eagles.

Jim Bissell, Curator of Botany at the Museum, will talk about the unique ecosystems in Ohio and the need to preserve open space.

Julie Handa, Outreach Representative with Defenders of Wildlife, will talk about what is currently going on in congress with regards to the Endangered Species Act, and what people in Ohio are doing about it.

What: Educational Event about the Endangered Species Act and endangered species in Ohio

Where: Cleveland Museum of Natural History

When: February 8th at 12:30 pm

Speakers: Harvey Webster, Director of Wildlife at the Cleveland Museum of Natural History

Jim Bissell, Curator of Botany at the Cleveland Museum of Natural History

Julie Handa, Outreach Representative for Defenders of Wildlife

Contact: Julie Handa, JHanda@defenders.org or 352-219-1561